Overview

The steel mesh wasn't the only change for the H500P Mesh Front Panel. There's a convenient new clip on the top of the panel that keeps it secure if your case needs to be moved.

A modified frame, that adds a horizontal bar midway through, offers further support and sturdiness. There's also a finer screen behind the mesh that is purposed as a dust filter.

Breathe easier when pushing your system to the limit with the H500P Mesh Front Panel.

Features

Hexagon-shaped steel mesh made to maximize airflow: Turn on the RGB fans to light up the hexagon design of the mesh. The pattern accents the industrial lines of the H500P while offering maximized airflow.

Quick release clip allows for hassle-free removal & installation: Snap the panel in to install and push down from the top to remove. If the case needs to be moved, rest assured that the panel is secure.

Massive grill showcases your build: Form and function in mind, the grill allows for efficient airflow and looks great while doing it.
