

UltraBoard 950

A compact ergonomic keyboard

UltraBoard 950 is the latest compact keyboard from BakkerElkhuizen. The light keystroke, 2 USB ports and clear layout make this a complete keyboard.

The biggest difference to a standard keyboard is that it has no numerical section, which makes the keyboard narrower.

A compact keyboard lacks the numerical section. The mouse can thus be placed closer to the keyboard. Research shows 90% of users rarely or never use the numerical section. A compact keyboard is more comfortable because it reduces the distance to the mouse (Cook C, et al., 1998). It thus reduces strain on the lower arms and shoulders. Dark letters on a bright background improve legibility (ISO 9241) and contribute to higher productivity (Snyder, 1990).

A compact keyboard for the correct ergonomic posture.

Flexwork, mobile work and telecommuting have become a standard for many people. This is partly because we work with more mobile devices, and thanks to the wide availability of Wi-Fi connections we are working more frequently at different locations: the office, at home, and even on the road. A laptop, smartphone or tablet gives us the freedom to be able to do our work anywhere. With the compact UltraBoard 950 keyboard you can easily and quickly get right to work on several devices. This offers you the option of working comfortably and ergonomically, always and everywhere.
