Product code: EY0E006

Solid support for your hands while working is like the backing vocals at a concert – you only notice when they're missing. It's the same with palm rests. You can click without them, but after a few hours, you feel that something isn't working. And then the ENDORFY Thock Palm Rest comes onto the stage desk. It's a soft pillow for your wrists and a perfect match to any of our full-sized ENDORFY Thock keyboards.

It easily remains in place on the desk and doesn't move even when you keep it at a distance from the keyboard. Thanks to its magnetic mounts and 6 rubber feet, you can maintain a laser-like focus on what's happening on the screen (not next to it).

Elegant and easy to maintain

The Thock Palm Rest is elegant and easy to maintain. We're raving about it like cosplayers before a fantasy convention.

It's made of PU Leather which looks like real leather, but it doesn't dry out or crumble over time. It's also easy to clean – just wipe it with a damp cloth to make it look new again.

A real keyboard magnet

The assembly of the Thock Palm Rest is a piece of cake. Just slide it towards the keyboard and from now on they'll be together come rain or shine. The pillow palm rest stays stable even during an intense battle in your favorite game.

Magnetic mounts — the technology of the future. You'll get magnets for the keyboard's side too, with simple instructions on how to attach them to the bottom of your device. It's a great option especially if you don't like mechanical latches – magnets are invisible and withstand even strong pulls.

Solid rubber feet

The Thock Palm Rest won't escape from your hands even when you're moving your wrists at the speed of a race car. You can even put it at a distance from the keyboard – don't worry, it'll still stick to the desk.

This is thanks to the 6 rubber feet that we slapped on the bottom. Each of them stabilizes the Thock Palm Rest and makes sure that it doesn't move an inch on the tabletop.
