A 3D rendering of a brass microscope, showing the eyepiece, objective lenses, and base. The microscope is shown in a disassembled state, with the eyepiece, objective lenses, and base separated. The eyepiece is a long, cylindrical tube with a textured, knurled section near the top. The objective lenses are two small, cylindrical tubes. The base is a rectangular block with a central slot. The entire assembly is made of brass and is shown against a white background.
