The MasterCase H500P Mesh Phantom Gaming Edition

The MasterCase H500P Mesh joins the Phantom Gaming line to ensure unrestricted airflow and a matching design for Phantom Gaming components. Form and function are pushed beyond limits in cooling potential and aesthetic aggression.

Behind the mesh sits two, pre-installed, 200mm RGB fans that propel air into the system. The combination of tempered glass and industrial lines gives the H500P a distinguished, functional appeal for your build to look as great as it performs.

Airflow is not just about cramming air into the case, it's also about efficiently directing the air to move through the system. The particular placement of vents on the top cover is key in channeling the flow of air to reduce system temps.

Designed to unify Phantom Gaming gear, aesthetic elements are shared throughout the entire Phantom Gaming line. Properly show off your unified gear with the specialized design of the MasterCase H500P Mesh Phantom Gaming Edition.
