

Acer TravelMate X4

(TMX414-51-TCO-58LJ)

TravelMate X - Intelligent performance for modern working environments

This notebook belongs to the latest generation of Windows PCs and is optimized for the use of modern AI functions. The integrated NPU (Neural Processing Unit) ensures smooth processes, fast response times and improved system performance - especially for AI-based applications. AI-supported functions simplify workflows and support creative processes - for more efficient use in everyday working life. Based on the powerful Bioscoe platform, the device offers a balanced combination of performance, security and energy efficiency - ideal for professional requirements.
